PART 1 – INTRODUCTION

The purpose of the Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000 (commonly referred to as the “PAIA”) is to give effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by the state, as well as information held by another person that is required for the exercise or protection of any right.

The motivation for giving effect to the right to access to information is to foster a culture of transparency and accountability both in public and private bodies, and to promote a society in which the people of South Africa have effective access to information to enable them to more fully exercise and protect all their rights.

Section 14 of the PAIA prescribes that a Public Body, such as the Department of Justice and Constitutional Development, must compile a manual. The manual should provide details of the Information Officer (and deputies, where available), structure, functions and records of such a Body.

The purpose of the manual is to provide information that shall enable a person to understand the functions of the public body and the records in its custody. Armed with that information a person shall be able to identify the records she/he wants and the procedure to follow to request for access to such records.

PART 2 – GUIDE OF ALL MANUALS IN THE REPUBLIC

The Information Regulator has published the guide as is prescribed by section 10 of the PAIA.
